The advantages of getting in the Assurance and Registration of Sustainability reports etc.

Sustainability reports etc. which is granted the Assurance and Registration Symbols are regarded as the ones which meet certain standards of reliability.

The stakeholders can recognize that the reports are reliable by the Assurance and Registration Symbol granted to them.

And in the circumstances where more and more people are interested in CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility), it is expected that the efforts and attitudes showing the reliable sustainability information for the users of the reports, are highly evaluated by Euro-American investing institutions, rating agencies etc.

Additionally, it is also expected that external assurances enhance in-company awareness of sustainability information, increasing the level of data management and help correct understanding of risks.
